Our Father.

Often in the morning, when we awaken, we hear a little childish voice saying "come Bebby, let's say our prayers," and then together both little voices offer that most beautiful of all petitions—

"Our Father which art in Heaven."

All over the world, in castle and hall, by the prince and by the peasant, is that most beautiful prayer repeated—but above all it sounds sweetest when lisped by the sunny-haired child at its mother's knee.—Mark the little bending form—the hair put softly back, the tiny white hands folded, the reverent glance bent towards her's, as though it saw a Saviour in its mother's eyes.

Blessed little child! What a dreary waste, what a wild and fruitless wilderness would this world be without them! How often the toiling mother wakes almost despairing—there is no food in the house—her ceaseless labor will hardly buy bread.

As she looks upon the red sun—rising with the sad forebodings, and knows not how to procure a meal for her little ones—sweetly upon her senses comes the murmuring of infant voices. She listens. Her very babes are looking trustfully towards heaven. They have hushed their sports, and kneeling together by their pure couch, they say—

[illegible]

Her soul grows strong within her: she knows God will never forsake her—and with tears she thanks him that she ever taught them how to pray.

And are there little children who never say "Our Father?" Are there mothers so lost to all that is holy and beautiful in Heaven and on earth, that they put their babes to sleep without teaching them on whose arm they rest? When night folds her starry curtain about them, and the moon looks down, silvering the meadows and spangling the trees, do they not tell them who in His goodness made all this beauty, and how with sweet confidence they should trust in Him?

We turn shudderingly from the picture of a prayerless mother. Parents, if your children have never repeated "Our Father" at their nightly orisons, teach them now.—When you are lying in your silent graves, the memory of that little sentence "lead us not into temptation," may lead them safely through a world of danger.

Cause of Thankfulness.

A minister was once speaking to a brother clergyman, of his gratitude for a merciful deliverance he had just experienced.

"As I was riding here to-day," said he, "my horse stumbled, and came very near throwing me from a bridge, where the fall would have killed me, but I escaped unhurt."

"I can tell you something more than that," said the other. "As I [illegible] here to-day, my horse didn't stumble at all."

We are too apt to forget common mercies.

Katy Cowslip's Fancies.

Girls, listen to me! You all came into the world for a purpose; that purpose is matrimony, and the sooner all you that are eligible set about getting husbands, the better for yourselves and those who otherwise will continue to be cigar-sucking, toddy-drinking, miserable cast-aways. Winter is congenial to wedlock, and it is coming, with its long, cosy, fireside evenings, its bustling parties and the frolicsome balls, and any girl with her proper wits about her, need not see the spring flowers above ground, without an engagement on her hands, if she but half embrace the chances certain to be offered her. "Look before you leap," is a good old grandmother's saying, but, girls, don't throw the half of a good chance away; it may not offer again. When your fish is fairly hooked, don't play with him too long, or he may break your line; but wind away on the reel, steadily, with a will; when you have got him nearly to land, let mamma give a slight jerk, then slip your hand-net underneath, and flop he finds himself in it. Cook him almost directly. Men are very like fish—they don't keep fresh long after being caught.

Have nothing to do with erratic bipeds with no fixed intentions. Such fellows there are who will loll on sofas, turn the leaves of your music books and your heads with silly nothingness, at the same time monopolize you for all the fancy dances; play waiter behind your chairs at supper, be your humble servant at theatres and concert rooms, serenade you through a two or three years' campaign—have nothing to do with him.—Whistle such a dangler off. Cut them dead after taking them on trial for a winter and a summer, and being fresh on a novelty.—If a man does not come to the "popping" point after a winter's dancing, and a summer's riding and ice-creaming, he won't do it at all. He is not a marrying man, and you had better, for your own sakes, hand such over to your younger sisters, just out of short dresses and pantalettes, smelling nice and fresh of bread and butter, who have the time to waste on trifles. You have none.

Mind, I don't say, don't wait for a man if you are sure of him. Never care if he is poor—poor and worthy. Your father was a poor man, ten to one, when he married your mother. If you love the fellow, and he merits it, love on; wait until he is in a position to make the pot boil, and keep it boiling; and then some fine afternoon, when your father is happy in himself, and at peace with the world, throw yourself upon his heart; wait until his dinner is digested, and then put dear Harry's love for you straight at him.

Procrastination is the thief of time. Don't let the men procrastinate. Make them clearly define their positions. "To be or not to be, that is the question." I admire a warm hearted, strong-loving girl, one who, when her love is well-bestowed, is not ashamed to let the world see her happiness; but I hate match-making mammas, and I despise girls who spend four or five of the best years of their lives in waltzing with, and knitting purses and working slippers for, a set of fellows, whose hearts are in the tailors' pattern books. These are the men that are killing the purpose of your lives; they are stealing away that fresh goodness of heart, and pure impulse of thought and action, which every girl should bring her husband as a dowry. They will hang around you until you are thirty. If you make up well, can bear the test of gas-light, and have friends in a set they cannot afford to cut—they will keep away from you plain, honest and sensible men, qualities the daughters cannot lay claim to, who would make your old age happy. Look for one of this latter class; then you will preserve your pure, womanly nature; your love for him will spring up again to you tenfold in your children, and be perpetual in your husband's grateful heart. If you cannot find such men, and live on alone with yourself until you are an old-bachelor, why then victimize one of the danglers. When he is satisfied and proud, the vanity of all things, he will come to you: marry him, and do the best you can with him, and I think yourself well off.

But many girls marry—go out of doors to matrimony. Think of it myself in spectacles, with a cap, knitting. [illegible] [illegible] Think of this, and then of a [illegible] Harry, jr., [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Harry, [illegible] [illegible] Harry, [illegible]

True to the Letter.

Dow, Jr, the inimitable preacher of Short Patent Sermons, in a late discourse, gives us the article of his creed, and concludes with the remark:

"Poke over, with the cane of consideration, what I have emptied before you, and if you find a single grain of wheat among the four pecks of chaff I shall be highly gratified."

The following are the grains of the genuine article, or we are no thresher:

I believe that the most industrious are the most contented and happy. Idleness is an incubus upon the bosom of enjoyment. It is the hardest work in the world to do nothing by the mouth and have nothing to do it with.

I believe that kicking against custom and spitting in the face of fashion, is a foolish and futile endeavor. Both may need correction—but they must and will have their way.

I believe that if the devil is the father of liars, he has a large family to look after, and rapidly on the increase.

I believe that girls are like kittens—gently smooth them the right way, and they will rub and purr most affectionately; but give them a contrary brush and they get their backs up in a most disdainful manner. They like to be kissed but sham a delicacy about the matter.

I believe that human flesh is hard to digest. Jonah did not sit easy upon the whale's stomach.

I believe that simple honesty, the naked truth, pure virtue, and a straight up and down way of dealing with the world, have as much advantage over vice, trickery and stratagem, in the long run, as a good square trotting horse has over a pacing pony or a racker that goes a mile or two like the mischief and is done for the rest of the journey.

Fearful Warning to Hard Kissers.

John McDonnell, a young white man, with an open, prepossessing countenance, was brought up for stealing a lady's bonnet from a millinery store, in Second street.—It is not a common event in the course of human affairs for a young man to steal a bonnet—indeed the case was singular enough to excite a general curiosity; the mayor himself seemed anxious to know why John's fingers should have fallen on a bonnet rather than a hat—for that head-piece he wore was entitled to repose after long and faithful service.

"Why did you steal a bonnet, John McDonnell?"

"Ah, your honor, it's a werry delicate subject, and I'd rather say nothing about it, if it's all the same to your honor and the other gintlemen."

"Have you a wife?"

"Divil a one!"

"A mother or sister?"

"Not a taste, plaze your honor."

"Then, what did you intend to make of the bonnet?"

"Must I tell your worship? Why, then I was taking Nelly Callahan over Schuylkill last Sunday; that led to the whole calamity. The ould scratch instigated me to kiss her among the blackberry bushes, and she fit against the civility till her straw bonnet was used up like a crushed egg-shell."

"There," says she, "you have ruined me."

"How's that?" says I

"Why," says she, "you've kissed the head off of me, and soiled my best bonnet besides, and if that's not the ruination I'd like to know what is?"

"Niver mind," says I, "there's not much harm done yet; and I'll pay the damages."

"If you don't get me another bonnet, you thief," says she, "I'll sue you for high traps n[illegible]." And so your honor I was obliged to do it."

"To do what."

"Get on ther bonnet. There was n[illegible] [illegible] If I must go to [illegible] let me speak a word of advice to the young men who are now standing [illegible] [illegible]

The Unintentional Divorce.

The dangers of log-rolling with a legislature are graphically described in the following sketch:

One winter there came to Trenton, New Jersey, two men, named Smith and Jones, who had both of them designs upon the legislature. Jones had a bad wife, and was in love with a pretty woman. He wished to be divorced from his bad wife, so that he might be married to the pretty woman, who, by-the-by, was a widow, with black eyes, and such a bust! Therefore Jones came to Trenton for a divorce. Smith had a good wife, plump as a robin, good as an angel, and the mother of ten children, and Smith did not want to be divorced, but did want to get a charter for a turnpike, or plank road, to extend from Pig's Run to Terrapin Hollow. Well, they, with these different errands, came to Trenton, and addressed the assembled wisdom with the usual arguments. 1st, suppers, mainly composed of oysters, with a rich back ground of steak and venison. 2d, liquors in great plenty, from "Jersey lightning"—which is a kind of locomotive at full speed, reduced to liquid shape—to Newark champagne. To speak in plain prose, Jones, the divorce man, gave a champagne supper, and Smith, the turnpike man, followed with a champagne breakfast—under the mollifying influences of which, the assembled wisdom passed both the divorce and turnpike bills, and Jones and Smith, with a copy of each bill in parchment in their pockets, went rejoicing home, over miles of sand, and through the tribulation of many stage coaches. Smith arrived at home in the evening, and as he sat down in his parlor, his pretty wife beside him—how pretty she did look! and five of her children asleep over head, and the other five studying their lessons in a corner of the room, Smith was induced to expatiate upon the good result of his mission to Trenton.

"A turnpike, my dear. I am one of the directors, and will be President. It will set us up, love; we can send the children to boarding school, and live in style, out of the toll. Here's the charter:

"Let me see it," said the pretty wife, who was one of the nicest wives, with plumpness and goodness dimpling all over her face, "let me see it," and she leaned over Smith's shoulders, pressing her arm upon his own, as she looked at the parchment.—But all at once Smith's visage grew long.—Smith's wife's visage grew black. Smith was not profane, but now he ripped out an awful oath; "Blast it! wife, those infernal scoundrels at Trenton have gone and divorced us!"

It was too true. The parchment which he held was a bill of divorce, in which the name of Smith and Smith's wife appeared in frightfully legible letters. Mrs. Smith wiped her eyes with the corners of her apron. "Here's a turnpike," she said, sadly, "and with the whole ten of our children staring me in the face, I ain't your wife!—Here's a turnpike!"

"Blast the 'pike, and the legislature and all."

Well, the fact is, that Smith reduced to single-blessedness, and "enacted" into a stranger to his own wife, swore dreadfully. Although the night was dark, and most of the denizens of Smith's village had gone to bed, Smith bid his late wife put on her bonnet, and, arm in arm, they proceeded to the house of the clergyman of their church.

"Goodness bless me!" exclaimed the mild, good man, as he saw them enter—Smith looking like the very last June shad, and Smith's wife wiping her eyes with the corner of her apron: "Goodness bless me! what's the matter?"

"The matter is, I want you to marry us two, right off," said Smith.

"Marry you?" ejaculated the clergyman, with expanded fingers and awful eyes, "are you drunk or crazy?"

"I ain't crazy, and I wish I was drunk," said Smith, desperately. "The fact is, brother Goodwin, that some scoundrels at Trenton, unbeknown to me, and at the dead of night, have gone and divorced me from my own wife; she is the mother of—of—nine children."

"Ten," suggested Mrs. Smith, who was crying. "Here's a turnpike!"

Well, the good minister seeing the state of the case, [illegible] the Trenton parchment was duly produced from the pocket of the legislative Smith [illegible]

[illegible]

Putting her plump gloved hand on his shoulder she did look at it.

"Oh, dear!" she said, with her rose-bud lips, and sank back, half fainting, on the sofa.

"Oh, blazes!" cried Jones, and sank beside her, rumpling the fatal parchment in his hand, "here's lots of happiness and champagne gone to ruin."

It was a hard case. Instead of being divorced and at liberty to marry the widow, Jacob Jones was simply, by the legislature of New Jersey, incorporated into a turnpike company, and which made it worse, authorised (with his brother directors,) to construct a turnpike from Burlington to Bristol. When you reflect that Burlington and Bristol are located just a mile apart, on opposite sides of the Delaware river, you will perceive the extreme hopelessness of Jones' case.

"It's all the fault of that turnpike man, who gave 'em the champagne supper, or was it a breakfast?" cried Jones in agony. "If they'd only chartered for me a turnpike from Pig's Run to Terrapin Hollow, I might have borne it, but the very idea of building a turnpike from Burlington to Bristol bears an absurdity on the face of it."

So it did.

"And you ain't divorced?" said Eliza, a tear rolling down her cheek.

"No!" thundered Jones, crushing his hat between his knees, "and what is worse, the legislature has adjourned, and gone home drunk, and won't be back to Trenton till next year!"

It was a hard case. The mistake had occurred on the last day of the session when the legislators and transcribing clerks were laboring under the effects of a champagne supper, followed by a champagne breakfast. Smith's name had been put where Jones' ought to have been, and "wisey versy," as the Latin poet has it.

Gum Arabic.

In Morocco, about the middle of November, that is after a rainy season, which begins in July, a gummy juice exudes spontaneously from the trunk and principal branches of the Acacia tree. In about fifteen days, it thickens in a furrow, down which it runs either in a vermicular (or worm) shape, or commonly assuming the form of oval and round tears, about the size of a pigeon's egg, of different colors, as they belonged to the white or red gum tree.—About the middle of December the Moors encamp on the borders of the forest, and the harvest lasts six weeks.

The gum is picked in very large sacks of leather, and brought on the backs of bullocks and camels to certain ports, where it is sold to the French and English merchants. Gum is highly nutritious. During the whole time of harvest, of the journey, and of the fair, the Moors of the desert live almost entirely upon it; and experience has proved that six ounces of gum are sufficient for the support of man for twenty-four hours.

Save the Dead Leaves.

If every horticulturist would reflect for a moment on the nature of fallen leaves—which contain not only vegetable matter, but the earthy salts, lime, potash, &c., needed for the next season's growth—and, that, too, exactly in the proportion required by the very tree and plant from which they fall—nay, more, if they would consider that it is precisely in this way, by the decomposition of these very leaves, that nature enriches the soil, year after year, in her great forests, it would scarcely be possible for such a reflecting horticulturist to allow these leaves to be swept away by every wind that blows, and finally be lost altogether. A wise horticulturist will diligently collect, from week to week, the leaves that fall under each tree, and by digging them under the soil about the roots where they will decay and enrich that soil, provide in the cheapest manner the best possible food for that tree. In certain vineyards in France, the vines are kept in the highest condition by simply burying at their roots every leaf and branch that is pruned off such vines, or that falls from them at the end of the season.

Twilight of the Heart.

"There is an Evening Twilight of the Soul."

Yes, the heart hath its twilight—a time when the shadows fall, and the light is dim—a time when retrospection is mournfully pleasant, and tears, like the evening dew-drops, gently distill. The sunlight may be flashing gloriously, or the quiet stars be twinkling in the midnight sky, but the heart can have its twilight alike in the morning's glow or the midnight gloom. Let the soul but be hushed to silence, and memory and imagination's busy train fixed on the past, and in its shadowy vistas let forms once loved appear, and voices long silent wake again echoes in the heart—let the joys of life's sinless hours pass before us, refreshing the mind by the remembrance of their purity and innocence—let all the aspirations of hope, and the bright dreams of youthful ambition be recalled, and softened, and mellowed by distance, they will seem brighter than aught the future may promise; and at such moments you will feel that the shadows of the heart's twilight have fallen upon your spirit. At such moments commune with thine own heart and be still—let meditation ply her holy task, and thy reveries, in the sombre light in which thou art shrouded, may waken purer feelings and nobler resolves than all pens, save that of inspiration—than the lyre of the poet, or the tongue of the eloquent orator.

THE GLOBE:

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS,

AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

IT will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter of Gen. Washington to David Stewart, dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe, originated in the mind of the Father of his Country. He said:

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprized of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the decisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgment."—Sparks' Writings of Washington.

The Daily Globe and the Congressional Globe.

In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possible, in time, to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates accurately and fully with the proceedings—all stamped with the verity of an official record. From the passage in the letter of Gen. Washington, which I have quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wings to the weightier matter which may be called Congress'l news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within 250 miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York,) the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress; each, in succession, will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock, p. m. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock, p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the Cities 250 miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by telegraph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted in them, and, thro' agents employed for the purpose, all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington, before the public mind at a distance had received its first impressions from irresponsible telegraphic dispatches, or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a centre of political interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments, and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress, is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government.—To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village throughout the Union, where the Globe is sent daily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies.

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress portends much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast interests which were brought up in the last Congress were laid over by the Democratic Executive. The new modelling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every man a freeholder who may choose to become one; the approximation of the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans by a national railroad across the territory of the Union; reform in the Army, Navy and civil offices—all these great questions, with a thousand minor ones, deeply affecting multitudes of men and every State in the Union, will, now being matured by public opinion, come up for the Government's decision. These new issues, cooperating with old ones, coming up to be disposed of by new actors on the scenes at Washington, will be apt to modify greatly, if not alter essentially, the party organizations of the country.

To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agitations of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness that now seems fraught with tendencies threatening war; and if war comes, in all likelihood there will follow such universal change that the United States can scarcely hope to escape its vortex. Indeed, from late events it is apparent that our Government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind to the next Congress with much expectation.

The DAILY GLOBE will be printed on fine paper, double royal size, with small type, (brevier and nonpareil,) at five dollars a year.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE will also be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe proper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as taken by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves, will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But [illegible]

[illegible]

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of [illegible] Globe [illegible]

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That [illegible] the present and next Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the Laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved, August 6, 1852.

As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of similar publications, so the Congressional Globe and Appendix is sold for half the cost of so much composition, presswork, and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It requires the sale of about 9,000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 only were sold, the cost of each copy would be about $101! The Debates of the English Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge subscribers for debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one; and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before made 3,901 royal quarto pages—four large volumes each session. If subscribers will be careful to file all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seventeen volumes will now command three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

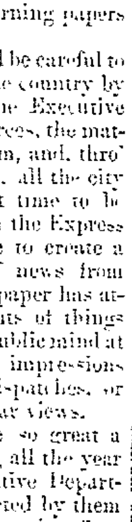

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended.

Subscribers for the Daily should have their money here by the 5th, and for the Congressional Globe by the 15th of December. The money must accompany an order for either the daily or the Congressional Globe. Bank notes current where a subscriber resides will be received at par.

THE LIFE AND SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY,

With a portrait and a view of the birthplace of Mr. Clay. In one handsome large octavo volume of 1300 pages, beautifully bound in cloth, gilt.

Price Only Three Dollars!

Or bound in Two Volumes, cloth, gilt, $3.50.

The work here presented is intended to trace clearly the career of Mr. Clay, from his entrance on the stage of public life down to the period of his death—mainly by the light of his own lofty, persuasive, and impassioned eloquence. Mr. Clay's parliamentary efforts, clear, direct, and vigorous, embody all the illustration that is needful to their full understanding—the great importance, variety and indestructible interest of the topics he generally discussed—the character and ability of the orator, the direct and exact bearing of his arguments on the controversies and interests of the times—all combine to render his speeches among the most valuable contributions of Patriotism and Genius to the enlightenment and elevation of the American people.

NOW READY:

The New Methodist Singing Book!

LUTE OF ZION. By I. B. WOODBURY, assisted by Rev. H. MATTISON, Pastor of the John Street Methodist Church. It comprises nearly one Thousand pieces of the choicest music, including almost every old tune of any merit ever published: it represents some two hundred of the finest composers the world ever saw, and contains every variety of meter now in use, with copious indexes to every part. The LUTE is therefore held with truth to be an almost exhaustless mine of the richest Sacred Musical Treasures ever presented to the public. Glowing with the animation and burning zeal of the communion for which it is designed, the tunes are nevertheless equally adapted to the Hymn Books of all denominations of Christians. Of Mr. Woodbury's last Book, the Dulcimer, have been issued since its appearance three years ago, and still the demand is on the increase. Is any further evidence of the admiration in which he is held as a Composer needed?

OVER 150,000 COPIES

From the enthusiasm with which the LUTE has already been greeted, a reception for it similar to that accorded to the Dulcimer is confidently expected.

Any professional musician desiring a copy of either the Lute or the Dulcimer for examination, can have it sent to him, free of postage, by remitting 60 cents to the Publisher.

MOORE'S PATENT SEED AND GRAIN PLANTER.

THIS Machine was Patented July 2, 1850, and has received the highest premium at all the Exhibitions where it has ever been contested, including Newcastle county, Delaware, Agricultural Society, October 9th, 1850; Philadelphia and Delaware County Agricultural Society, October 17th, 1850; Maryland State Agricultural Society, October 23d, 1850, and October 24th, 1851; and Michigan State Agricultural Society, September 25th, 1851.

Is not liable to get out of repair, is exceedingly simple in its construction, will sow point rows in all irregular shaped fields, and possesses superior advantages to all others, in the ease and quickness with which it can be regulated to sow any desired quantity of Grain per acre, while the draft upon the Horses is 25 per cent. lighter, and consequently, with the same labor, can seed one-fourth more ground per day, than with most other machines now in use. The objection so common to Drilling Machines of becoming choked if the seed is not perfectly cleaned, is entirely obviated in the Simple and Peculiar Construction of this Drill, as white caps and short straw will not interfere in the least with

THE REGULAR DISTRIBUTION OF THE SEED.

It is warranted to distribute the seed evenly; to sow any quantity per acre commonly sown broadcast; to not cut or break the grains; to be well made with good materials and durable with proper care.

Having sold about 400 of the above Drills the past season, all of which met with the unqualified approbation of the purchasers: and after careful and thorough experiments which have resulted in still greater Improvements, we now feel warranted in saying that Moore's Patent Seed and Grain Planter improved, is superior to any other machine FOR THE PURPOSE, NOW IN THE MARKET.

Having made arrangements to furnish 1,000 of the above Machines for sale, the coming season, we shall be prepared, at all times, to supply orders without delay.

Having made use of the Compound Syrup of Yellow Dock Root, prepared by C. MORSE & CO., either ourselves, or in our families, and finding it to be a very salutary and effectual preparation, we do most cheerfully recommend it to the public as a very valuable medicine.

E. Bourne, Esq., Cashier National Bank, Providence, R. I.; A. W. Spencer, Esq., Cashier Lime Rock Bank, Providence, R. I.; Rev. Wm. Phillips, Rev. J. B. Richmond, C. S. Jones, editor Providence Gen. Adv., Wm. Field, M. W. G. M., Cyrus Fisher, M. E. H. P., J. Hutchinson, G. S. Dea, V. J. Bates, Dr. Benj. Colby, and one hundred others of the most respectable families of Providence.

This certifies that I have for a number of years been acquainted with the composition and mode of manufacture of MORSE'S COMPOUND SYRUP of YELLOW DOCK ROOT. I have also been acquainted with its modus operandi in disease, and can say that in all respects it is admirably calculated to remedy that class of Diseases for which it was designed. It is especially valuable in INDIGESTION and all its attendant symptoms, it excites to healthy action the LIVER, removes Torpor, and inactivity of this Organ, and stimulates healthy action in all the system. As a DEPURATOR or purifier of the Blood it has no superior. DAVID HOLMES, M. D.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

Monday, November 7, 1853.

We are indebted to the politeness of the Editor of the Compiler for the table of official returns of the late election in this State, in another column.

Railroad Meeting.

We are requested to announce that there will be a Railroad meeting at New Chester, on Saturday the 12th inst., at 12 o'clock, M.

Swiss Bell Ringers.

It will be seen from their advertisement to-day, that the Swiss Bell Ringers are to perform at McConaughy's Hall to-morrow and Wednesday evenings. From the notices we have seen of their performances, we have no doubt it will be an agreeable treat.

Iron Ore.

We learn from the Hanover Spectator, that an Iron ore bank of immense extent and value has recently been discovered on the lands of Mr. Enoch Lefever, in Union township, between Hanover and Littlestown. Some of the ore has been tested, and found to be of excellent quality. It is said that ore of similar quality has been found in great quantity on the farms of Mr. Jacob Sterner, and J. and A. Biehl—which adjoin Mr. Lefever's.

The President and Directors of the "Hanover Saving Fund Society" have declared a dividend of five per cent. for the last six months.

We observe, since the decision of the Supreme Court that the selling of Liquors on the Sabbath is illegal, the authorities in many cities and towns are enforcing the law upon the subject. The hotels are closed so far as the sale of Liquor is concerned. In this place, for two or three years past, the hotels have been closed for this purpose on the Sabbath, so far as we have learned, by the voluntary act of the Landlords.

The Harrisburg "Telegraph" has been united to the "Whig State Journal," published at the same place, and the two papers will hereafter be issued as one, under the title of "Pennsylvania Telegraph & Whig State Journal," Messrs. J. J. Patterson & Co. being the proprietors. Theophilus Fenn, the editor and proprietor of the Telegraph, retires from the concern, after an editorial career of twenty-two years in charge of that paper, which he commenced in September, 1831.

The Crystal Palace Exhibition receipts average about four thousand dollars per day, and the expenses about six hundred dollars. The Directors have determined not to close in December, as had been at first contemplated, but to continue the exhibition through the whole winter.

U. S. Senator from Tennessee.—Telegraph despatches from Tennessee announce the re-election of the Hon. John Bell, as U. S. Senator. The return to that body of so sound a statesman, pure patriot, and consistent and unwavering Whig, is a proper matter of rejoicing.

Professor Butler, of Louisville, a few days ago, chastised a small brother of Mr. Matthew F. Ward, author of a work entitled "English Items," which so exasperated the latter gentleman, that he shot the Professor. The ball took effect in the left breast, and the wound is considered dangerous. [P. S. He died on Wednesday.]

The Deputy Sheriff of Worcester county, Mass., named Rabbitt, was convicted on Tuesday last, of burglary! A pretty conservator of the laws, truly!

James R. Snowden, Esq., Director of the Mint at Philadelphia, has given notice that silver coin will be paid out at the Mint in exchange for gold coin, in sums not less than one hundred dollars, and in larger amounts at his option. An opportunity is thus offered for business men to procure a supply of silver for change.

The Synod of the German Reformed Church, at its recent session in Philadelphia, declined to accept the resignation tendered by Professor Schaff, of his Professorship in the Theological Seminary at Mercersburg, with the view of accepting the Presidency of Franklin and Marshall College. This will render necessary the selection of another President.

John Van Buren, who figures now as conspicuously as ever, is quoted as declaring in 1848, as follows: "If ever I cast a vote for slavery, may I die forsaken of man and accursed of God." He is now a supporter of the Fugitive Slave Law, against which his bitterest shafts were formerly hurled. So much for politicians.

Crystal Palace.—Contributions still continue to arrive from Europe, swelling the already large display of products in the arts and manufactures. One hundred packages of various articles have arrived within the last week. Several of them are from Constantinople, Jerusalem, and various parts of the East. A collection of tableaux and paintings has been sent from France, executed by the celebrated artist, Eeck. Some of them are illustrative of statesmen and men of eminence from Washington to the present time. The series is valued at $70,000.

Maryland Election.

The election for Governor, members of Congress, and State Legislature, and other officers, took place in Maryland on Wednesday last. From the returns received, it is rendered pretty certain, that Mr. Ligon (dem.) has been elected Governor, by about 5,000 majority over Mr. Bowie (whig). The Whigs have gained three State Senators and 12 Delegates. The Congressmen elected are—John K. Franklin, (Whig,) Jacob Shower, (Dom.,) Joshua Vansant, (Dem.,) Henry May, (Dem.,) Wm. T. Hamilton, (Dem.,) and A. R. Sollers, (Whig.) The Whigs have certainly carried both branches of the Legislature, securing the State Treasurer and a United States Senator.

In Baltimore City the whole Maine Law Legislative ticket is elected.

Large Potatoes.

Our friend BEAMER, of Menallen, is rather beaten in the Potato line. Mr. Eli S. Beck, of York county, raised three which weighed over 5 lbs., one alone weighing over 2 lbs. And Mr. Babylon, of Carroll county, had pink-eyes weighing 2¼ lbs.—A few bushels of even the smallest of this party would answer our purpose admirably this winter.

The York Bank has declared a dividend of five per cent. for the last 6 months.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just negotiated in Europe a loan of two millions of dollars, on very favorable terms.

Spangler Wolf, the man who was shot at York week before last, whilst stealing wood, is recovering, contrary to all expectation, as about sixty shot were lodged in his back and spine, and a buck shot penetrated his lung, causing coughing and spitting of blood. He will hardly repeat the operation very soon, as he fared so badly this time.

The dwelling of Mr John Freed, near Westminster, was entirely destroyed by fire on Friday night week, together with all the furniture, and a considerable amount of money. The loss is between three and five thousand dollars, and no insurance.

The dwelling of Judge Constable, near Port Deposit, Md., was consumed by fire on Friday morning week, together with all his furniture and an extensive library valued at seven or eight thousand dollars. The house and furniture were insured in the office at Elkton to the amount of $5,000. The family were absent at the time of the accident.

On Sunday week, while Dr. Moore, of Moscow, Ky., and a young man named Orange, from Cincinnati, were hunting in the woods, the gun of the former was accidentally discharged, the contents passing through the body of the latter, in the region of the heart, and killing him instantly.—Both gentlemen were walking rapidly, Moore carrying his gun in his hand, their whole attention occupied with a flock of partridges which they were pursuing, and it is supposed that a twig caught the trigger of the gun and caused the discharge. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

The trial of the officers and owners of the steamboat Henry Clay, for manslaughter, at New York, is over, and the jury have returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Western Fruit.—It is stated that fruit dealers in New York have sent agents thro' the western part of the State to buy up all the good apples they can procure at reasonable rates, and that they are paying fifty cents a bushel.

November Election.—New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin elect State officers and members of the Legislature on the 8th. Louisiana elects Congressmen, State Treasurer, Auditor, Superintendent of Instruction, members of the Legislature, and the county officers on the 7th. Massachusetts elects State officers and members of the Legislature, and decides upon the adoption of the new constitution, on the 14th.

The fact of the Locofocos having so completely carried this State, abolishes all hope for a speedy sale of the Public Works and other Reforms so urgently demanded by the true interests of the State. They will have a jolly time of it, on the people's money, even if it does increase our State debt a few millions. Well, if the people do not feel interest enough in their own welfare to guard the State from such robbers, we suppose they are content to have the thefts committed; and if they are content, we can afford to be.

Agriculture in Ohio.—The Ohio Cultivator says that there will be seventy-five county fairs in Ohio this fall. This is double that of New York, and three or four times as many as any other State can boast.

The Chinese Rebellion.

From China we learn that the insurgents are still successful and advancing in their way through the Honan Province, in which there was some hard fighting, and were pushing on towards Pekin in great force. In fact, it was reported that this capital had fallen into their hands, but the report seems premature, although there was no doubt that a large division of the rebels were not far from it. If Pekin should fall, it was expected there would be an immediate rise and outbreak there, and the greatest precautions had been taken by the Mandarins to prevent surprise.

The Magazines.

Harper's Magazine, for November, is a beautiful number. It closes the Seventh Volume. The constant and rapid increase in public favor of this valuable monthly, is shown by the fact that the Eighth Volume will commence with the unexampled edition of 135,000 copies. Every department of the Magazine will be kept up with increased attention and interest.

The November number of that ably conducted journal, Putnam's Monthly, has come to hand, and is filled with its usual variety of valuable and interesting original matter. It is sustained by many of the ablest writers in the country.

The Literary Companion, for November, is quite a pretty number, and its articles choice and interesting. Its embellishment is the burial of De Soto on the Mississippi.

Illustrated News.—The late numbers of this paper show a very decided improvement, both in the character and execution of its engravings, which, we presume, may be taken as an evidence of its increasing popularity.

Gleason's Pictorial.—This splendid pictorial still continues its attractions. The engravings with which the paper is embellished are alone worth the subscription price, independent of the excellent reading matter it contains.

A little girl, named Mary Robson, was passing under the scaffolding of a new building in Philadelphia, on Monday last, when one of the carpenters let a hatchet fall, which struck her on the head, and caused her death in a short time afterward. In what a variety of ways does death come!

Rum's Doings.—A quarrel between the wives of Joseph Can and John Hannegan, at a drinking house in Cincinnati, last week, led to such a passion on the part of Hannegan, that, seizing an axe, he rushed into the street and struck three men who were standing on the pavement, killing one named Freely, and dangerously wounding two others named Smith and Dickson.

Trouble among the Campbellites.—The followers of the Rev. Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, Va., have become dissatisfied with his teachings on the subject of slavery. To remedy the evil they purpose calling a convention at Cleveland, on the second Wednesday in January next. Mr. C. is in favor of the gradual abolition of slavery.

The fire in the woods in Michigan was checked by a recent rain, but is still burning at many localities. Tens of thousands of acres of forest have been destroyed, and of the top soil, to the depth of nearly a foot in many places, nothing is left but ashes. It is estimated that more than fifty barns and houses have been burnt, with miles of fences and many thousand dollars worth of saw-logs, cord-wood, &c.

New Orleans.—No one certainly would imagine, from the present aspect of our city, what its condition was a few short weeks ago. Within ten or fifteen days thousands have been added to our population. The absentees have nearly all returned, while the large vacuum created by the recent appalling mortality is quickly disappearing, in consequence of the arrival of a legion of strangers among us.—N. O. Bee of the 25th.

A large fire occurred at the village of Lockport (N. Y.) on Thursday night.—It originated in the tub and pail factory of Bous & Kilborn, which was consumed, with the saw and flouring mill of Douglass and Jackson. The loss on mill property is supposed to be about $125,000.

Another Case of Damage.—Mrs. Primrose Johnson has obtained a judgment in the circuit court in Broome county, New Y., of $4,000 damages against the Erie Railroad Company for the death of her husband, who was killed by an accident on the defendants' road.

Large Purchase in Pennsylvania.—The Philadelphia Sun states that a party of capitalists have associated and purchased from the reputed owner, a large and valuable tract of land, very extensive improvements, on and near the Susquehanna river in Pennsylvania, embracing several thousand acres of improved land, and the whole towns of Columbia and Washington, the river front of Wrightsville, the Columbia Bridge, Canal improvements, &c., including the entire survey, formerly known as the Isles of Promise, owned by Lord Baltimore. The title of the property, which is in dispute, will be tested before a legal tribunal at an early day.

Suicide at Nashville.—A few days ago, an abandoned woman, known as Mary P. Smith, committed suicide at Nashville, by shooting herself in the heart. She was accomplished, and was educated at one of the first female seminaries in Tennessee; but in an evil hour she departed from the path of virtue, became dishonored, and at the early age of 19 years put an end to her miserable existence.

The ravages of the Indians in the frontier States of Mexico are more horrible than ever. In Zacatecas and Durango, these wretches torture their victims with an infernal ingenuity of malice. On one occasion they scalped a female sixty years old, and then abandoned her, leaving her to perish by protracted agonies.

Over two-thirds of the members of the next Congress will serve for the first time in that capacity.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Africa arrived at New York on Friday, bringing Liverpool dates to the 22d Oct.

Breadstuffs had advanced 2s. 6d. per barrel in flour, and 6d per bushel in wheat.

The preparations of Russia and Turkey for war were going on in the most formidable manner; and an out-break was daily looked for.

Painful Event.—Richard McKim Duncan, son of the late Rev. John M. Duncan, of Baltimore, committed suicide at Pittsburg on Friday by taking laudanum. He was married about two years since to a very respectable lady in Baltimore. No cause is assigned for the dreadful act.

A great Barbacue took place recently at Falmouth, Kentucky, in honor of the completion of the Covington and Lexington Railroad, from Covington to that place. Tables were spread in three of the largest rooms in the village.—One of these rooms, which was in the female seminary, contained five tables, each fifty feet in length, at which were seated forty ladies and more than double that number of gentlemen, and the two other rooms accommodated nearly the same number.—Six bullocks, six hogs and various other animals, were slaughtered and roasted for the occasion. Falmouth is at the confluence of the forks of Licking river, 38 miles south of Covington, and the railway necessarily follows the course of the river. The grading of the road is in many places very heavy and expensive, there being many costly but substantial bridges, and two tunnels, one 2176 feet in length, and the other 760 feet. The barbacue is said to have been a glorious feast, and a number of persons went from Covington and Lexington to join in and enjoy it.

Bank Robbery.—A daring robbery was committed in the city of New York, on Monday afternoon, at the Bank of the State of New York. Just before the close of banking hours the porter of the bank was entrusted with two packages of bank notes, to be left with the Bank of Commerce, and the Bank of the Republic. He placed them in a bag, and before taking them out laid them, as he states, on a desk at least twelve feet inside of the counter, while he attended to receiving a deposite of specie. On returning to the desk a moment after, he missed the bag, with its contents, and the money has not yet been recovered. One of the packages contained $29,000 in 5's, 10's, 20's, 100's, 500's, and 1,000's marked letter A in red ink; and the other $9,810, in 10's, 20's, 50's, and 100's marked letter L in red ink, all on the Bank of the State; making a total of $38,810—quite a little fortune, if honestly acquired. The Bank of the State offers a reward of five thousand dollars for the recovery of the money, and in the same proportion for any part of it.

Dr. Mercer, a benevolent citizen of N. Orleans, has donated $13,000 in ground, and $35,000 in cash, for the establishment of "St. Anne Asylum," in that city. He is also purchasing furniture for it, which will increase his donation to $15,000. The name "St. Anne Asylum," is in remembrance of a daughter of Dr. Mercer, lately deceased. It is designed as a home for destitute females, and will accommodate from four to five hundred inmates.

Among the property destroyed at the recent fire at Providence, R. I., was the Museum building, a large and handsome Hall, the cost of which was $80,000, and a vast amount of other property. The entire loss is estimated at half a million of dollars.

The Democrats and Free Soilers in the Vermont Legislature united again on the 28th ult., and elected J. P. Kidder (dem.) Lieutenant Governor, and J. A. Page (dem.) Treasurer. The Free Soilers are to get the U. S. Senator, as their share of the spoils, it is supposed.

Candid Admission.—The celebrated Dr. James Johnson, editor of the London Medico Chirurgical Review, thus unbosoms himself:—"I declare, as my conscientious opinion, founded on long experience and reflection, that if there was not a single physical surgeon, apothecary, midwife, chemist, druggist or drug on the face of the earth, there would be less mortality than now prevails."

Discovery of Silver Mines.—It is stated that a silver mine has been recently discovered in Stanly county, (N. C.) which is believed to be immensely rich. The vein is said to be three and a half feet wide, and has thousands of sheets and lumps of silver all through it. It is estimated that the ore is worth from $1 50 to $3 for every eight pounds, but its value has yet to be fully developed.

A fortnight ago Michael Keeny was married to Ann Waters, at Stamford, Connecticut. Nine days afterwards he married Mary Ganna, at Williamsburg, Long Island, and in two days more found himself in the clutches of the law for coveting too much of "heaven's last best gift to man."

A fire occurred at Akron, Ohio, on Tuesday night, which consumed the Etna Flour Mills of Rawson, Noble & Co., the Planing Mills of S. H. Dix & Co., the Foundry of J. R. Ford, and several other buildings. The loss is heavy.

An Expensive County.—It appears that but eighty-one votes, all told, were cast at the General Election [illegible] Forest, Pa.

Serious Disasters and Shipwrecks on the Lake.—Great Loss of Property.

BUFFALO, November 1.—There have been serious gales on the Lakes, which have involved the loss of a number of vessels.—Annexed are the particulars as far as received.

The large and new brig Philo Scoville, bound on her first trip from Milwaukie, went to pieces on Thursday on Lake Huron, in a severe gale. Her cargo comprised ten thousand bushels of wheat and some flour. The vessel was insured for $8,000 in the Sun and Mercantile offices, N. York.—The crew got ashore on the mainmast; the vessel is a complete wreck.

The propeller New England, previously reported ashore on the Canada side, has arrived safe at Detroit.

The steamer Southerner has gone to pieces near Ashtabula. Her cargo consisted of fifteen hundred barrels of flour and twelve hundred hogs. The flour is much damaged, and a portion of the hogs were drowned. The engines of the vessel are broken up; she is insured for $16,000, nine thousand of which is in the Astor, and six thousand in the Atlas, N. York.

The steamer was owned by Mr. Curry, whose loss amounts to sixteen thousand dollars.

The steamer Minnesota, ashore in Detroit river, will prove an entire loss.

The schooner G. H. Walker was also wrecked on Friday, at Madison, Ohio.—The crew and passengers were saved after much suffering. The cargo was composed of lumber, and was a total loss.

Romantic Wedding.—A marriage took place in this city, last week, under the following romantic circumstances: A young Clergyman of the Episcopal church, resident in Canada, was engaged to a lady in England. Circumstances not favoring his undertaking the voyage to his native country, in order to meet his lady-love, she took passage on board the Canada, to come to her future home, alone and unattended.—Arrangements had been made by the gentleman to have the marriage ceremony performed in an Episcopal church in this city, upon the arrival of the bride, and the rector was ready to have the church opened at an hour's notice. The steamer reached East Boston about 11 o'clock on Friday night. The bridegroom was upon the wharf anxiously waiting the appearance of his betrothed, whom he had not seen for three years. The parties soon met, and a friend was despatched to have the church opened and the clergyman at the altar. The arrangements were made after a short delay, as the Bishop and the Priest who were to officiate had retired for the night. The bridal party drove from the steamer to the church. The candles in the altar gave but a dim light, and the scene was quite peculiar.—During the marriage ceremony, the clock in the church struck the midnight hour, so that some confusion arose respecting the proper date to give the marriage certificate. The party in the church consisted of but five persons—the bride and bridegroom, the two clergymen of the church and one witness. The married clergyman took part in the religious services of two churches in this vicinity on Sunday, and left for the place of his residence in the early train yesterday morning.—Boston Transcript.

A Female Crusoe.

SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, Sept. 11, 1853.—We have now at Santa Barbara a great curiosity. It is an Indian woman who has lived for eighteen years alone upon the Island of San Nicholas, a small island about forty-five miles from this place, during which time she has not seen the face of a human being. This island was once peopled by a tribe of Indians, to whom the Northwest tribes were hostile. To preserve the remnant of this tribe from destruction, as well as with a view to Christianize them, the Padres induced them to come to the main land eighteen years ago. After they were all on board the vessel sent for them, this woman swam ashore to look for her child which had been left; and a storm springing up in the night, the vessel was compelled to put to sea, and on returning she could not be found. She was known to be alive by those who at times visited the island for the purpose of hunting otters, from the marks of fires and from footprints in the sand.

On being approached the other day she manifested much joy, which she betrayed by signs of the most significant character, and at once commenced packing up her few articles of furniture. Her clothing consisted of skins of birds sewed together with the fibres of some tree or plant. Her food has been shell-fish, seals, and a small bulbous root similar in appearance to an onion, but wholly tasteless. The needles with which she stitches her garments are made of the sharp bones of a fish. She had two hooks made of a bent nail and sharpened by the friction on a stone. Her lines were beautifully twisted from the sinews of some animal, probably a species of fox which abounds on the island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A large fire, attended with fatal results, has occurred in Fulton street to-day. It broke out in the store of the "Union Hall Clothing Company." Before it could be got under, the walls of four upper stories had fallen in.—The buildings were faced with brown stone. Several of the firemen who were in the building were precipitated below by the sudden falling of the floor on which they stood, and were buried in the ruins. Of these three have been extricated, and sent to the hospital, where they lie in a most miserable condition. Two or three are still under the ruins, and their brethren are hard at work trying to get them out. Several adjoining stores were much injured.—The loss is two or three hundred thousand dollars. The tenants were Messrs. Salisbury & Arrowsmith, jewellers; Mr. Lessing, the engraver; Mr. Shiers, military goods; and Mr. Strong, the printer and bookseller. All the tenants lost their stock and tools.

[Two bodies have been recovered from the ruins of this conflagration.]

For Liberia.—Twenty-one slaves, all young and valuable, freed by the will of their late master, James Wardlaw, of Fayette county, Ky., have left Lexington for Baltimore, in charge of an agent of the Colonization Society, to fulfil the condition of their liberation by embarking for Liberia at that port. They were all in the happiest spirits, and much gratified at the prospect of freedom. Their master left ample provision [illegible] as well as means to begin life anew in Liberia.

Election of President Judges.

At the late election in this State, President Judges of the Courts were voted for in four districts, with the following results:

In Allegheny county, Moses Hampton, whig, was elected President Judge of the District Court.

In the District composed of Wayne, Pike, Carbon and Monroe counties, James M. Porter, dem., was elected President Judge.

In the District composed of Centre, Clearfield and Clinton counties, Jas. Burnside, dem., was elected President Judge.

In the District composed of Mercer, Venango, Clarion and Warren counties, John S. M'Calmont, dem., was elected President Judge.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Arctic arrived at N. York on Monday with Liverpool dates to the 19th Oct.

The news by this arrival confirms the intelligence before received of the visit of the United States expedition to Japan. Com. Perry had an interview with two Imperial Princes, to whom he delivered the friendly letter of the President of the United States, and the Commodore is to return to Japan next spring for a reply. The Americans were kindly received, and they and the Japanese parted as mutual friends, having exchanged presents and expressions of good-will. The expedition sailed from Jeddo on the 17th August.

The condition of the Eastern question has drawn from the Turkish Government another manifesto, which is pronounced by the London Times to be one of the strongest and most unanswerable state papers issued during the present century. The London Post says it is certain that Russia is already morally defeated, and that she will soon be materially defeated.

The Turkish declaration of war is published in full. It is temperate and high spirited. It lays no embargo on Russian ships, and fully protects the rights of commerce. When the Czar heard of this declaration it is said that he became furious and threatened to wage a war of extermination against the Turks.

The Russian subjects in Turkey have been placed under Austrian protection, and Austria and Prussia have recalled their subjects from the Turkish service.—The indications are that these two Powers will maintain a neutral position.

On the 4th of October the combined fleets of Great Britain and France were observed to be preparing to advance on Constantinople. The Turks will allow neutral flags on the Danube till the 25th Oct., but no longer.

The Cholera—Its Progress.

For some time past, each successive arrival from Europe has apprised us of the ravages of the cholera in many of the cities and towns of England, and of its steady progress westward. Its appearance on the continent of Europe, was exactly similar to that in 1831 and 1848. It started from Asia—its usual starting point—last year, steadily advanced through Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, and has now been for some time striding through England, destroying its hundreds of victims per day. Its next move will probably be across the Atlantic, and we may expect it here, if not the coming winter, at least early the coming spring—and we should be prepared to meet it. We have no reason to believe that the ocean will prove a barrier to its farther progress; for as well might we suppose that the expanse of waters would stop the currents of air; for they are the conductors of this fell malady from one country to another.

Ohio Election.—Those who are acquainted with the state of parties in the recent election in Ohio are not surprised at the result. The party lines are not strictly drawn in the State; the Maine Law temperance question and many other issues entered into the contest. The whigs appear to have been generally the avowed friends of a Prohibitory Liquor Law, and that fact is supposed to have contributed very materially to their defeat by a plurality which is reported by telegraph to be thirty or forty thousand. The result has thus exemplified what we have heretofore had occasion to say, that in all such contests the Democrats will generally stick to a man of their party, whether they agree with them on the temperance question or not, while the whigs will divide and vote according to their sentiments.—St. Louis Intel.

The Chinese in California.—It seems from all accounts that the Chinese who so recently thronged, by hundreds and thousands to the shores of our El Dorado of the West, have become disgusted with the country, and with the conduct of the "barbarians" who inhabit it, and are returning in large numbers to their Celestial home.—Five hundred and fifty Chinese took their departure for China in a single week previous to the departure of the last steamer. A great many are still pouring into the country, but these bear a small proportion to the home goers. A principal source of dissatisfaction is the treatment received by them in the mines. They complain to be subject to constant impositions from parties pretending to be tax-collectors, who, under the plea of licenses to dig, take from them nearly all they can make. This practice, they assert, is carried on very extensively whenever they happen to pitch upon a rich placer.

As an illustration of popular ignorance in England, it is stated that a woman in Sheffield recently astonished a neighbor with the astounding intelligence that the devil was dead! The truth of this statement being doubted, the sceptical woman accompanied her friend to the shop where she had seen the fact advertised. The couple at length reached a dyer's shop, in the window of which was a placard with the inscription, "Satin dyed here."

New Grenada papers inform us that the first fatal accident occurred on the Panama Railroad upon the 1st ult., when a train with six hundred passengers was thrown off a bridge, at Taberelia, into a ravine sixteen feet deep, by running over an ox. Four men were killed, and several severely injured.

A Census of Detroit, Michigan, just completed for Directory purposes, shows that the city and its environs contain a population amounting to 94,517 souls, of which 21,855 are Protestants and 12,662 Catholics.

Fiend Caught.—As some Germans were crossing the track of the Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Railroad on Monday night they heard a noise as of iron falling on the track, and on going towards the place met a man named Vincent Gray, who had been put out of a car. They then found a T rail thrown across the track. This was about ten feet east of a bridge over a gully of ten or twelve feet deep; and east of this again was an iron crosstie thrown across the track. They removed the obstructions, and immediately afterwards the passenger train going west thundered by. There was but a step between some of the passengers and death. Gray was arrested and committed.

Passenger Cars.—The cost of one of the long railway cars is, on an average, about $2,000. There are in the United States upwards of eighty private car manufactories, exclusive of those railways which make and repair all for their own use; and it is calculated that a capital of $6,000,000 is invested in this branch of industry, producing about $17,000,000 annually, and employing about 6,000 men.

More Deaths from Poisonous Candy.—Two bright-eyed little boys, one aged two and the other about five years—sons of a Mr. Horton, of Boston—died a few days since from eating candy which had been colored with some poisonous substance.

A woman in Boston has commenced a suit of divorce against her husband, because he would not allow her to apply her tongue to the stopper of the molasses jug every time she saw it—a privilege every Yankee woman considers sacred.

Terrible Shipwreck.

The English files by the Niagara announce one of the most terrible catastrophes on record,—the total loss of the ship Annie Jane, Mason, commander, belonging to Liverpool, which was driven ashore on the iron-bound coast of Barra Island during the recent gales, on the night of Wednesday, the 28th of September last, when no fewer than three hundred and forty-eight passengers—men, women and children—met with a watery grave. The Annie Jane was a large vessel, and sailed from Liverpool for Quebec and Montreal, on the 9th of September, with some 450 emigrants, most of them Irish families. It is presumed that she had made some progress across the Atlantic, when she encountered the late fearful south-westerly gales, which disabled her and rendered her unmanageable, and in that hopeless condition she was driven back and dashed on the terrible coast of Barra, one of the Hebrides. At the point called Vatersay, where the wreck occurred, the island is six miles in length and two and a half broad, and is some five miles south-west of the next island. There is a light-house on the head, which is the highest point in the United Kingdom, being 680 feet above the level of the sea. Such is the terrible character of the coast, however, that there is little chance of a vessel being rescued when once it is entangled among the reefs. Several of the survivors contrived to get a passage from the island over to Tobermory, a small sea-port on the Isle of Mull, and from them the authorities learned that 348 passengers were drowned, and 102, with Mr. Bell, chief officer, and 12 of the crew saved.

Lynch Law in Missouri.

A man by the name of Obadiah Wingo, was summarily executed at Richmond, Mo., by the populace, on the 15th ult., for the murder of a very estimable citizen by the name of Benj. R. Allen.

On the morning of the 12th ult., Mr. Allen, in company with a friend, arrived in town, and, while yet on horseback, was accosted in an insolent manner by Wingo, who, gun in hand, told him he must retract instanter what he had said about him. Allen replied in a calm and mild manner, that he was not aware of anything derogatory to his character, and desired to be informed what he had reference to, at the same time requesting him not to be too rash, whereupon Wingo, without more ado, said, "d—n you, I'll make you retract," and on the instant fired, blowing off the whole top of Allen's head.

The exciting causes of the hanging of Wingo by the mob, are thus given by the Lexington Express, just come to hand:

The prisoner not being able to employ counsel, and the indignation of the whole community being so strong against him that no lawyer would volunteer his services, the court assigned him able counsel and appointed Friday for the trial. When the case came up, the prisoner wished his counsel to move for a change of venue. His counsel advised him not to make such a motion, stating that if the motion was sustained, he would certainly be taken by a mob and hung without trial. Hereupon he dismissed his counsel and undertook the management of his own case. He then ordered a subpœna for Mrs. Allen, the wife of the man whom he had murdered, evidently supposing that her deep distress would prevent her attendance in court.

The subpœna was, however, granted: but whether the attendance of Mrs. A. was procured or not, we did not learn. He next stated to the court that he had learned from experience in criminal courts, that the law required that the prisoner should be furnished with a pannel of the venire that was to decide his case, forty-eight hours before the commencement of the trial. This requirement of the law not having been complied with, he demanded a continuance of the case until the next March Term. At this point of the proceedings, the multitude being satisfied that his only design was delay, with an intention to make his escape, determined to take the law into their own hands, and dragging the miserable wretch from the court, immediately hung him.

☞"The Liberia Enterprise Company," is the name of an association of colored citizens of Pennsylvania, who design to embark, in a few days, for the Republic of Liberia, whither they go as a missionary family. We learn that they possess all the requisite qualifications for the interesting work they have undertaken, having among their number the farmer, the teacher, the merchant, the mechanic, and the minister of the Gospel. The spot they have selected for their new home is situated about twenty five miles from Monrovia, up the St. Paul's river, and has the advantage of being in the midst of a high, rolling, picturesque and salubrious region, near certain native tribes who have, for a long time, desired the settlement of American colonists in their vicinity. The expedition is a noble one in its objects, and will, doubtless, have the best wishes of this community for its success.

Dead Child Found.—There was considerable excitement occasioned in the neighborhood of West Liberty Chapel, in the upper part of this county, last week, by the finding of a dead child in the woods. It appears that a small boy was looking for chestnuts, when he found the body of a dead infant under the edge of a log. He gave the information, and some persons went to the spot. It proved to have been a new-born child, and had probably lain there two days. Its skull was fractured and a cord tied around its neck. Suspicion soon fell upon a young woman who had lately come into the neighborhood, from Hopewell, York county, Pa. She immediately left the neighborhood, and though search has been made for her, she has not been found. —Balt. County Advocate.

Got Him at Last.—Connecticut has a summary way of her own of disposing of public nuisances. At the late fair in Stamford of the Fairfield County Agricultural Society, a notorious English pick-pocket named "Ned Hammond" was arrested in the very act of rifling the personal treasury of a solid country gentleman. Ned was promptly tried, convicted, and sentenced, under the name of "Seymour," to the State prison for three years. His capture was adroitly turned to the benefit of the Fair, for as he had victimized several persons on the ground, he was placed on the last day among the other curiosities, and as a consequence the receipts for tickets of admittance on that occasion ran $1,000 ahead of the ordinary amount.

From Oregon & Washington Territories.

Our files of Oregon papers are up to the 29th ultimo, inclusive, and from Washington to the 17th ultimo.

The Portland Transcript gives a gloomy picture of the condition of the emigrants on the plains. It says that whole families are left entirely destitute, their cattle having perished; and, further, that out of between 600,000 and 800,000 head of cattle which had left the U. S. for California and Oregon, probably not more than 100,000 would live through the journey.

A gentleman who arrived at Oregon City on the 2d of September from Salt Lake City estimates the number of wagons on their way to Oregon at about 2,000; 650 had crossed at Salmon Falls, and some 1,200 had gone down on the south side of the river. Many large flocks of sheep are on the way. About 200,000 head of cattle were destined for California.

The population of Washington Territory was between 2 and 3,000.—N. York Com. Advertiser.

☞Mr. David Stuart, formerly one of the principal agents of the late John Jacob Astor, in his great expedition to the mouth of the Columbia river, died in Detroit last Tuesday, aged 88 years. The Detroit Advertiser, in a short biographical notice, says:

"Many anecdotes have passed from mouth to mouth around the camp fires of the hunters upon the western frontier, of the hair-breadth escapes and desperate rencounters between the deceased, and the wild men and wild beasts of that region.

Upon one occasion, while encamped upon the Columbia river, he awoke during the night, and impelled by curiosity, visited a camp of hostile Indians, whom the party had struggled all day to escape. Finding them all asleep in a circle round the fire, he helped himself to a pipe, and when the Indians awoke was found quietly regaling himself with a whiff of hostile tobacco.—So astonished were the warriors with this display of coolness that they shook him by the hand, made him a present of the pipe, and sent him in safety back to his comrades, among whom was his nephew, Robert, who by this time had become alarmed for his safety, and ready to cover him with rebuke for his rashness. His reply was "there is no fear of an Indian, if you have no fear for him."

BOOKS, STATIONERY,

AND

FANCY GOODS.

One Price—and that as low as at any Establishment out of the City.

S. H. BUEHLER

RETURNS his acknowledgments to his friends for the long continued and liberal patronage extended him, and invites attention to his present largely increased stock of goods just received from Philadelphia and New York. He deems it unnecessary to enumerate the assortment, which will be found to embrace every variety of goods in his line, viz:

Classical, Theological, School, &
Miscellaneous Books,

and STATIONERY of all kinds, embracing, as he believes, the largest and best assortment ever opened in Gettysburg.

He also invites attention to his large supply of

FANCY GOODS,

embracing Gold and Silver Pens and Pencils, Pen-Knives, Plain and Fancy Note paper and Envelopes, Motto Wafers, Sealing Wax, Portmonnaies, Soaps, Perfumery, &c., &c.,—all of which will be sold at the ☞VERY LOWEST RATES.☜

☞Call and examine for yourselves at the old established BOOK & DRUG store in Chambersburg Street, a few doors from the diamond.

TAILORING.

E. & R. MARTIN,

At the Old Stand, N. W. Corner of the Diamond, Gettysburg,

TENDER their thanks to their customers for past favors, and respectfully inform the public that they continue to CUT AND MAKE ALL GARMENTS, in the best manner and on reasonable terms. The cutting will be done as heretofore, by ROBERT MARTIN. Fashions are regularly received, and every effort made to secure a good fit and substantial sewing. The subscribers hope, by their long experience in the business, and renewed efforts to please, to merit and receive a continuance of the public patronage.

All our work is made by regularly employed journeymen: upon this, our customers may rely.

The Fall and Winter Fashions have just been received from the city.

All kinds of country produce taken in exchange for work.

DECIDED AT LAST!

AFTER a trial of the many articles recommended to cure Rheumatism, Spine Disease, Sore Throat and Quinsy, Pains in Side, Back, Breast & Limbs, Swellings of the Joints or Limbs, Neuralgia, Tooth-ache, Nervous Head-ache, Sprains, Bruises, Weakness of the Ankles, Frosted Feet, &c.—The people have, without a single exception, that have used MILLER'S AMERICAN LINIMENT, pronounced it superior to any article offered to the public, not only for the immediate relief, but the permanent cure, of the above diseases.

A Great Improvement.——A single trial of MILLER'S EMBROCATION for HORSES, is all we ask to convince any one of its astonishing properties to cure all those diseases of the Horse that require an external application, such as—Stiffness of the Joints and tendons, Collar or Saddle Galls, Weakness of the Limbs, Sprains, Scratches, Strains, Windgalls, Wounds, Bruises, Cracked Heels, &c. This Embrocation has cured Horses of the above diseases, after a fair trial of other articles recommended had entirely failed.

MILLER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

If you want a good and active medicine, which is highly recommended by eminent physicians, purchase these Pills, and use them for the diseases named in the bill around each box, and a cure is certain.

The [illegible] [illegible] of Miller's Refined HAIR OIL, are for sale by S. S. Forney, Gettysburg; Shorb & Elder, Emmitsburg, M. Eichelberger, Abbottstown; and Jacob Martin, New Oxford.

A FIRST RATE

LIMESTONE & BLUE SLATE

FARM FOR SALE.

BY order of the Orphans' Court of Frederick county, and in accordance with the Wills of MARY & BARBARA SAUM, dec'd, the Subscriber offers at Private Sale, until Wednesday the 16th day of November next.

If not sold previously, it will then be offered at Public Sale, to the highest bidder. The Public Sale will take place on the above day, on the premises, at 10 o'clock, A. M. This Farm is of the best quality of Limestone and Blue Slate Land, lying on Sam's Creek, in Frederick county, Md., about one mile south of McKinstry's Mills, and 6 miles south of Uniontown, Carroll county. It contains about

280 ACRES OF LAND,

but can be conveniently divided into 2 Farms. The buildings are of the best order: a large substantially built BRICK HOUSE; a large Switzer or Bank Barn, Stone below and Frame above, with all necessary out buildings, such as Spring-house, Wagon-house, Hog-houses, &c. A large and never-failing SPRING near the House, an abundance of and other matters, making it a most desirable property.

Most of the fields have a sufficiency of Water for Stock, and the Timber on the Farm is superabundant. A portion of the Woodland may be cleared, the wood of which would nearly, if not quite, pay for the land off of which it may be taken, and leave a sufficiency for the uses of the farm.

More than this general description is unnecessary, as persons desirous of purchasing will view the place previously by calling on the Subscriber, living adjoining Uniontown, Carroll county, Maryland, or on SAMUEL McKINSTRY, Esq., at McKinstry's Mills, in the neighborhood of the Farm.

Also, on the same day, if not previously sold at Private Sale, will be offered separated from the Farm by a public road leading from McKinstry's Mills to the Copper Mine road, containing Five Acres Three Quarters and Eleven Perches. This is a valuable Lot, heavily timbered.

A WOOD LOT,

☞There is also

of a FEW PERCHES near the Meeting House, that would answer for a Mechanic.

The Conditions of the Sale as ordered by the Orphan's Court, are: One-third of the purchase money to be paid on the day of sale, or on the ratification thereof, and the balance in two equal payments, with interest from the day of sale. On the payment of the whole of the purchase money, the undersigned will give a good and sufficient Deed conveying all the right and title of Mary and Barbara Saum to the above, which is unquestionable.

DANIEL ZOLLIKOFFER, Ex'r of the Wills of Mary & Barbara Saum.

A VALUABLE FARM

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers at Private Sale, on very favorable terms, his FARM,

Containing 200 Acres, more or less, of Patented Land, situated in Butler township, Adams county, six miles from Gettysburg, two miles north-east from Middletown, five miles south-west from Petersburg; and adjoining Lower's Mill, (formerly Bell's) on Big Conowago Creek. The improvements are a large two-story double DWELLING-HOUSE, with two Kitchens to it, two Bake-ovens, and two Cellars, with a well at the door, with very good water, and a Spring within sight of the house; also a large Stone Bank Barn, and a double Wagon-shed, with a Corn-crib in the middle of it; a double Hog-pen, a Smoke-house, &c., and a well in the Barn-yard with a pump in it to water the stock; a LARGE ORCHARD, with all kinds of Grafted Fruits. There is a sufficiency of good WOODLAND and MEADOW to the place. There is a large quantity of Chestnut Rails on the farm; a great deal of Postfence; the fences all in good repair; and the Farm under good cultivation. It is fenced in twelve divisions, and would suit very well to divide. It lies very convenient to the Mills and Blacksmith Shops, and all kinds of Tradesmen.

☞To suit purchasers, the above will be sold entire, or there will be sold separate, lying on the Public Road leading from Hunterstown to Middletown, adjoining lands of Wm. Cashman, and others. There is a sufficiency of Meadow and Woodland. All is under good fence, and in a high state of cultivation.

A Tract of 50 Acres,

☞Any person wishing to see the Farm, can call on the subscriber, who will show it to him. There will be a great chance given in making the payments to suit purchasers.

PETER LATSHAW.

A LOT FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers at Private Sale, his LOT, situated in Freedom township, Adams county, 5 miles from Gettysburg, near the road leading to Emmitsburg, containing adjoining lands of George Spangler, George Weikert, and Joseph Creager.—The improvements are a 1½ story HOUSE, with a basement story. The basement part is stone, and the other part log. Also a new Stable, with threshing-floor and corn-crib; a log Shop near the house; a new stone Spring-house, with a never-failing spring running through it; also, another first-rate spring on the lot; a thriving young ORCHARD of Apples, Peaches, Plums and Pears. There is also a portion of TIMBER to the lot. Marsh-creek runs alongside of it.

23 Acres, more or less,

☞Any person wishing to view the property, can do so by calling on the subscriber, living thereon.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

Monday, November 7, 1853.

☞We are indebted to the politeness of the Editor of the Compiler for the table of official returns of the late election in this State, in another column.

Railroad Meeting.

We are requested to announce that there will be a Railroad meeting at New Chester, on Saturday the 12th inst., at 12 o'clock, M.

Swiss Bell Ringers.

It will be seen from their advertisement to-day, that the Swiss Bell Ringers are to perform at McConaughy's Hall to-morrow and Wednesday evenings. From the notices we have seen of their performances, we have no doubt it will be an agreeable treat.

Iron Ore.

We learn from the Hanover Spectator, that an Iron ore bank of immense extent and value has recently been discovered on the lands of Mr. Enoch Lefever, in Union township, between Hanover and Littlestown. Some of the ore has been tested, and found to be of excellent quality. It is said that ore of similar quality has been found in great quantity on the farms of Mr. Jacob Sterner, and J. and A. Biehl—which adjoin Mr. Lefever's.

☞The President and Directors of the "Hanover Saving Fund Society" have declared a dividend of five per cent. for the last six months.

☞We observe, since the decision of the Supreme Court that the selling of Liquors on the Sabbath is illegal, the authorities in many cities and towns are enforcing the law upon the subject. The hotels are closed so far as the sale of Liquor is concerned. In this place, for two or three years past, the hotels have been closed for this purpose on the Sabbath, so far as we have learned, by the voluntary act of the Landlords.

☞The Harrisburg "Telegraph" has been united to the "Whig State Journal," published at the same place, and the two papers will hereafter be issued as one, under the title of "Pennsylvania Telegraph & Whig State Journal," Messrs. J. J. Patterson & Co. being the proprietors. Theophilus Fenn, the editor and proprietor of the Telegraph, retires from the concern, after an editorial career of twenty-two years in charge of that paper, which he commenced in September, 1831.

☞The Crystal Palace Exhibition receipts average about four thousand dollars per day, and the expenses about six hundred dollars. The Directors have determined not to close in December, as had been at first contemplated, but to continue the exhibition through the whole winter.

U. S. Senator from Tennessee.—Telegraph despatches from Tennessee announce the re-election of the Hon. John Bell, as U. S. Senator. The return to that body of so sound a statesman, pure patriot, and consistent and unwavering Whig, is a proper matter of rejoicing.

☞Professor Butler, of Louisville, a few days ago, chastised a small brother of Mr. Matthew F. Ward, author of a work entitled "English Items," which so exasperated the latter gentleman, that he shot the Professor. The ball took effect in the left breast, and the wound is considered dangerous. [P. S. He died on Wednesday.]

☞The Deputy Sheriff of Worcester county, Mass., named Rabbitt, was convicted on Tuesday last, of burglary! A pretty conservator of the laws, truly!

☞James R Snowden, Esq., Director of the Mint at Philadelphia, has given notice that silver coin will be paid out at the Mint in exchange for gold coin, in sums not less than one hundred dollars, and in larger amounts at his option. An opportunity is thus offered for business men to procure a supply of silver for change.

☞The Synod of the German Reformed Church, at its recent session in Philadelphia, declined to accept the resignation tendered by Professor Schaff, of his Professorship in the Theological Seminary at Mercersburg, with the view of accepting the Presidency of Franklin and Marshall College. This will render necessary the selection of another President.

☞John Van Buren, who figures now as conspicuously as ever, is quoted as declaring in 1848, as follows: "If ever I cast a vote for slavery, may I die forsaken of man and accursed of God." He is now a supporter of the Fugitive Slave Law, against which his bitterest shafts were formerly hurled. So much for politicians.

Crystal Palace.—Contributions still continue to arrive from Europe, swelling the already large display of products in the arts and manufactures. One hundred packages of various articles have arrived within the last week. Several of them are from Constantinople, Jerusalem, and various parts of the East. A collection of tableaux and paintings has been sent from France, executed by the celebrated artist, Eirx. Some of them are illustrative of statesmen and men of eminence from Washington to the present time. The set is valued at $70,000.

Maryland Election.

The election for Governor, members of Congress, and State Legislature, and other officers, took place in Maryland on Wednesday last. From the returns received, it is rendered pretty certain, that Mr. Ligon (dem.) has been elected Governor, by about 5,000 majority over Mr. Bowie (whig). The Whigs have gained three State Senators and 12 Delegates. The Congressmen elected are—John K. Franklin, (Whig,) Jacob Shower, (Dem.,) Joshua Vansant, (Dem.,) Henry May, (Dem.,) Wm. T. Hamilton, (Dem.,) and A. R. Sollers, (Whig.) The Whigs have certainly carried both branches of the Legislature, securing the State Treasurer and a United States Senator.

In Baltimore City the whole Maine Law Legislative ticket is elected.

Large Potatoes.

Our friend BEAMER, of Menallen, is rather beaten in the Potato line. Mr. Eli S. Beck, of York county, raised three which weighed over 5 lbs., one alone weighing over 2 lbs. And Mr. Babylon, of Carroll county, had pink-eyes weighing 2¼ lbs.—A few bushels of even the smallest of this party would answer our purpose admirably this winter.

☞The York Bank has declared a dividend of five per cent. for the last 6 months.

☞The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just negotiated in Europe a loan of two millions of dollars, on very favorable terms.

☞Spangler Wolf, the man who was shot at York week before last, whilst stealing wood, is recovering, contrary to all expectation, as about sixty shot were lodged in his back and spine, and a buck shot penetrated his lung, causing coughing and spitting of blood. He will hardly repeat the operation very soon, as he fared so badly this time.

☞The dwelling of Mr John Freed, near Westminster, was entirely destroyed by fire on Friday night week, together with all the furniture, and a considerable amount of money. The loss is between three and five thousand dollars, and no insurance.

☞The dwelling of Judge Constable, near Port Deposit, Md., was consumed by fire on Friday morning week, together with all his furniture and an extensive library valued at seven or eight thousand dollars. The house and furniture were insured in the office at Elkton to the amount of $5,000. The family were absent at the time of the accident.

☞On Sunday week, while Dr. Moore, of Moscow, Ky., and a young man named Orange, from Cincinnati, were hunting in the woods, the gun of the former was accidentally discharged, the contents passing through the body of the latter, in the region of the heart, and killing him instantly.—Both gentlemen were walking rapidly, Moore carrying his gun in his hand, their whole attention occupied with a flock of partridges which they were pursuing, and it is supposed that a twig caught the trigger of the gun and caused the discharge. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

☞The trial of the officers and owners of the steamboat Henry Clay, for manslaughter, at New York, is over, and the jury have returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Western Fruit.—It is stated that fruit dealers in New York have sent agents thro' the western part of the State to buy up all the good apples they can procure at reasonable rates, and that they are paying fifty cents a bushel.

November Election.—New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin elect State officers and members of the Legislature on the 8th. Louisiana elects Congressmen, State Treasurer, Auditor, Superintendent of Instruction, members of the Legislature, and the county officers on the 7th. Massachusetts elects State officers and members of the Legislature, and decides upon the adoption of the new constitution, on the 14th.

☞The fact of the Locofocos having so completely carried this State, abolishes all hope for a speedy sale of the Public Works and other Reforms so urgently demanded by the true interests of the State. They will have a jolly time of it, on the people's money, even if it does increase our State debt a few millions. Well, if the people do not feel interest enough in their own welfare to guard the State from such robbers, we suppose they are content to have the thefts committed; and if they are content, we can afford to be.

Agriculture in Ohio.—The Ohio Cultivator says that there will be seventy-five county fairs in Ohio this fall. This is double that of New York, and three or four times as many as any other State can boast.

The Chinese Rebellion.

From China we learn that the insurgents are still successful and advancing in their way through the Honan Province, in which there was some hard fighting, and were pushing on towards Pekin in great force. In fact, it was reported that this capital had fallen into their hands, but the report seems premature, although there was no doubt that a large division of the rebels were not far from it. If Pekin should fall, it was expected there would be an immediate rise and outbreak there, and the greatest precautions had been taken by the Mandarins to prevent surprise.

The Magazines.

☞Harper's Magazine, for November, is a beautiful number. It closes the Seventh Volume. The constant and rapid increase in public favor of this valuable monthly, is shown by the fact that the Eighth Volume will commence with the unexampled edition of 135,000 copies. Every department of the Magazine will be kept up with increased attention and interest.

☞The November number of that ably conducted journal, Putnam's Monthly, has come to hand, and is filled with its usual variety of valuable and interesting original matter. It is sustained by many of the ablest writers in the country.

☞The Literary Companion, for November, is quite a pretty number, and its articles choice and interesting. Its embellishment is the burial of De Soto on the Mississippi.

Illustrated News.—The late numbers of this paper show a very decided improvement, both in the character and execution of its engravings, which, we presume, may be taken as an evidence of its increasing popularity.

Gleason's Pictorial.—This splendid pictorial still continues its attractions. The engravings with which the paper is embellished are alone worth the subscription price, independent of the excellent reading matter it contains.

☞A little girl, named Mary Robson, was passing under the scaffolding of a new building in Philadelphia, on Monday last, when one of the carpenters let a hatchet fall, which struck her on the head, and caused her death in a short time afterward. In what a variety of ways does death come!

Rum's Doings.—A quarrel between the wives of Joseph Can and John Hannegan, at a drinking house in Cincinnati, last week, led to such a passion on the part of Hannegan, that, seizing an axe, he rushed into the street and struck three men who were standing on the pavement, killing one named Freely, and dangerously wounding two others named Smith and Dickson.

Trouble among the Campbellites.—The followers of the Rev. Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, Va., have become dissatisfied with his teachings on the subject of slavery. To remedy the evil they purpose calling a convention at Cleveland, on the second Wednesday in January next. Mr. C. is in favor of the gradual abolition of slavery.

☞The fire in the woods in Michigan was checked by a recent rain, but is still burning at many localities. Tens of thousands of acres of forest have been destroyed, and of the top soil, to the depth of nearly a foot in many places, nothing is left but ashes. It is estimated that more than fifty barns and houses have been burnt, with miles of fences and many thousand dollars worth of saw-logs, cord-wood, &c.

New Orleans.—No one certainly would imagine, from the present aspect of our city, what its condition was a few short weeks ago. Within ten or fifteen days thousands have been added to our population. The absentees have nearly all returned, while the large vacuum created by the recent appalling mortality is quickly disappearing, in consequence of the arrival of a legion of strangers among us.—N. O. Bee of the 25th.

☞A large fire occurred at the village of Lockport (N. Y.) on Thursday night.—It originated in the tub and pail factory of Bous & Kilborn, which was consumed, with the saw and flouring mill of Douglass and Jackson. The loss on mill property is supposed to be about $125,000.

Another Case of Damage.—Mrs. Primrose Johnson has obtained a judgment in the circuit court in Broome county, New Y., of $4,000 damages against the Erie Railroad Company for the death of her husband, who was killed by an accident on the defendants' road.

Large Purchase in Pennsylvania.—The Philadelphia Sun states that a party of capitalists have associated and purchased from the reputed owner, a large and valuable tract of land, very extensive improvements, on and near the Susquehanna river in Pennsylvania, embracing several thousand acres of improved land, and the whole towns of Columbia and Washington, the river front of Wrightsville, the Columbia Bridge, Canal improvements, &c., including the entire survey, formerly known as the Isles of Promise, owned by Lord Baltimore. The title of the property, which is in dispute, will be tested before a legal tribunal at an early day.

Suicide at Nashville.—A few days ago, an abandoned woman, known as Mary P. Smith, committed suicide at Nashville, by shooting herself in the heart. She was accomplished, and was educated at one of the first female seminaries in Tennessee; but in an evil hour she departed from the path of virtue, became dishonored, and at the early age of 19 years put an end to her miserable existence.

☞The ravages of the Indians in the frontier States of Mexico are more horrible than ever. In Zacatecas and Durango, these wretches torture their victims with an infernal ingenuity of malice. On one occasion they scalped a female sixty years old, and then abandoned her, leaving her to perish by protracted agonies.

☞Over two-thirds of the members of the next Congress will serve for the first time in that capacity.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Africa arrived at New York on Friday, bringing Liverpool dates to the 22d Oct.

Breadstuffs had advanced 2*s.* 6*d.* per barrel in flour, and 6*d* per bushel in wheat.

The preparations of Russia and Turkey for war were going on in the most formidable manner; and an out-break was daily looked for.

☞Painful Event.—Richard McKim Duncan, son of the late Rev. John M. Duncan, of Baltimore, committed suicide at Pittsburg on Friday by taking laudanum. He was married about two years since to a very respectable lady in Baltimore. No cause is assigned for the dreadful act.

☞A great Barbacue took place recently at Falmouth, Kentucky, in honor of the completion of the Covington and Lexington Railroad, from Covington to that place. Tables were spread in three of the largest rooms in the village.—One of these rooms, which was in the female seminary, contained five tables, each fifty feet in length, at which were seated forty ladies and more than double that number of gentlemen, and the two other rooms accommodated nearly the same number.—Six bullocks, six hogs and various other animals, were slaughtered and roasted for the occasion. Falmouth is at the confluence of the forks of Licking river, 38 miles south of Covington, and the railway necessarily follows the course of the river. The grading of the road is in many places very heavy and expensive, there being many costly but substantial bridges, and two tunnels, one 2176 feet in length, and the other 760 feet. The barbecue is said to have been a glorious feast, and a number of persons went from Covington and Lexington to join in and enjoy it.

Bank Robbery.—A daring robbery was committed in the city of New York, on Monday afternoon, at the Bank of the State of New York. Just before the close of banking hours the porter of the bank was entrusted with two packages of bank notes, to be left with the Bank of Commerce, and the Bank of the Republic. He placed them in a bag, and before taking them out laid them, as he states, on a desk at least twelve feet inside of the counter, while he attended to receiving a deposite of specie. On returning to the desk a moment after, he missed the bag, with its contents, and the money has not yet been recovered. One of the packages contained $29,000 in 5's, 10's, 20's, 100's, 500's, and 1,000's marked letter A in red ink; and the other $9,810, in 10's, 20's, 50's, and 100's marked letter L in red ink, all on the Bank of the State; making a total of $38,810—quite a little fortune, if honestly acquired. The Bank of the State offers a reward of five thousand dollars for the recovery of the money, and in the same proportion for any part of it.

☞Dr. Mercer, a benevolent citizen of N. Orleans, has donated $13,000 in ground, and $35,000 in cash, for the establishment of "St. Anne Asylum," in that city. He is also purchasing furniture for it, which will increase his donation to $45,000. The name "St. Anne Asylum," is in remembrance of a daughter of Dr. Mercer, lately deceased. It is designed as a home for destitute females, and will accommodate from four to five hundred inmates.

☞Among the property destroyed at the recent fire at Providence, R. I., was the Museum building, a large and handsome Hall, the cost of which was $80,000, and a vast amount of other property. The entire loss is estimated at half a million of dollars.

☞The Democrats and Free Soilers in the Vermont Legislature united again on the 28th ult., and elected J. P. Kidder (dem.) Lieutenant Governor, and J. A. Page (dem.) Treasurer. The Free Soilers are to get the U. S. Senator, as their share of the spoils, it is supposed.

Candid Admission.—The celebrated Dr. James Johnson, editor of the London Medico Chirurgical Review, thus unbosoms himself:—"I declare, as my conscientious opinion, founded on long experience and reflection, that if there was not a single physical surgeon, apothecary, midwife, chemist, druggist or drug on the face of the earth, there would be less mortality than now prevails."

Discovery of Silver Mines.—It is stated that a silver mine has been recently discovered in Stanly county, (N. C.) which is believed to be immensely rich. The vein is said to be three and a half feet wide, and has thousands of sheets and lumps of silver all through it. It is estimated that the ore is worth from $1.50 to $2 for every eight pounds, but its value has yet to be fully developed.

☞A fortnight ago Michael Keony was married to Ann Waters, at Stamford, Connecticut. Nine days after that he married Mary Gunns, at Williamsburg, Long Island, and in two days more found himself in the clutches of the law for exceeding too much of "woman's last best gift to man."

☞A fire occurred at Akron, Ohio, on Tuesday night, which consumed the Pine Flour Mills of Rawson, Noble & Co., the Planing Mill of S. H. Dix & Co., the Foundry of J. R. Ford, and several other buildings. The loss is heavy.

Serious Disasters and Shipwrecks on the Lake.—Great Loss of Property.

BUFFALO, November 1.—There have been serious gales on the Lakes, which have involved the loss of a number of vessels.—Annexed are the particulars as far as received.

The large and new brig Philo Scoville, bound on her first trip from Milwaukie, went to pieces on Thursday on Lake Huron, in a severe gale. Her cargo comprised ten thousand bushels of wheat and some flour.

The vessel was insured for $8,000 in the Sun and Mercantile offices, N. York.

The crew got ashore on the mainmast; the vessel is a complete wreck.

The propeller New England, previously reported ashore on the Canada side, has arrived safe at Detroit.

The steamer Southerner has gone to pieces near Ashtabula. Her cargo consisted of fifteen hundred barrels of flour and twelve hundred hogs. The flour is much damaged, and a portion of the hogs were drowned. The engines of the vessel are broken up; she is insured for $16,000, nine thousand of which is in the Astor, and six thousand in the Atlas, N. York.

The steamer was owned by Mr. Curry, whose loss amounts to sixteen thousand dollars.

The steamer Minnesota, ashore in Detroit river, will prove an entire loss.

The schooner G. H. Walker was also wrecked on Friday, at Madison, Ohio.—The crew and passengers were saved after much suffering. The cargo was composed of lumber, and was a total loss.

Romantic Wedding.—A marriage took place in this city, last week, under the following romantic circumstances: A young Clergyman of the Episcopal church, resident in Canada, was engaged to a lady in England. Circumstances not favoring his undertaking the voyage to his native country, in order to meet his lady-love, she took passage on board the Canada, to come to her future home, alone and unattended.—Arrangements had been made by the gentleman to have the marriage ceremony performed in an Episcopal church in this city, upon the arrival of the bride, and the rector was ready to have the church opened at an hour's notice. The steamer reached East Boston about 11 o'clock on Friday night. The bridegroom was upon the wharf anxiously waiting the appearance of his betrothed, whom he had not seen for three years. The parties soon met, and a friend was despatched to have the church opened and the clergyman at the altar. The arrangements were made after a short delay, as the Bishop and the Priest who were to officiate had retired for the night. The bridal party drove from the steamer to the church. The candles in the altar gave but a dim light, and the scene was quite peculiar.—During the marriage ceremony, the clock in the church struck the midnight hour, so that some confusion arose respecting the proper date to give the marriage certificate. The party in the church consisted of but five persons—the bride and bridegroom, the two clergymen of the church and one witness. The married clergyman took part in the religious services of two churches in this vicinity on Sunday, and left for the place of his residence in the early train yesterday morning.—Boston Transcript.

A Female Crusoe.

SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, Sept. 11, 1853.—We have now at Santa Barbara a great curiosity. It is an Indian woman who has lived for eighteen years alone upon the Island of San Nicholas, a small island about forty-five miles from this place, during which time she has not seen the face of a human being. This island was once peopled by a tribe of Indians, to whom the Northwest tribes were hostile. To preserve the remnant of this tribe from destruction, as well as with a view to Christianize them, the Padres induced them to come to the main land eighteen years ago. After they were all on board the vessel sent for them, this woman swam ashore to look for her child which had been left; and a storm springing up in the night, the vessel was compelled to put to sea, and on returning she could not be found. She was known to be alive by those who at times visited the island for the purpose of hunting otters, from the marks of fires and from footprints in the sand.

On being approached the other day she manifested much joy, which she betrayed by signs of the most significant character, and at once commenced packing up her few articles of furniture. Her clothing consisted of skins of birds sewed together with the fibres of some tree or plant. Her food has been shell-fish, seals, and a small bulbous root similar in appearance to an onion, but wholly tasteless. The needles with which she stitches her garments are made of the sharp bones of a fish. She had two hooks made of a spent nail and sharpened by the friction on a stone. Her lines were beautifully twisted from the sinews of some animal, probably a species of fox which abounds on the island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A large fire, attended with fatal results, has occurred in Fulton street to-day. It broke out in the store of the "Union Hall Clothing Company." Before it could be got under, the walls of four upper stories had fallen in.—The buildings were faced with brown stone. Several of the firemen who were in the building were precipitated below by the sudden falling of the floor on which they stood, and were buried in the ruins. Of these three have been extricated, and sent to the hospital, where they lie in a most miserable condition. Two or three are still under the ruins, and their brethren are hard at work trying to get them out. Several adjoining stores were much injured.—The loss is two or three hundred thousand dollars. The tenants were Messrs. Salisbury & Arrowsmith, jewellers; Mr. Lossing, the engraver; Mr. Shiers, military goods; and Mr. Strong, the print and bookseller. All the tenants lost their stock and tools.

[Two bodies have been recovered from the ruins of this conflagration.]

For Liberia.—Two tyrone slaves, old and valuable, freed by the will of their late master, James Wardlaw, of Fayette county, Ky., have left Lexington for Baltimore, in charge of an agent of the Colonization Society, to fulfill the condition of their liberation by embarking for Liberia at that port. They were all in the happiest spirits, and much gratified at the prospect [illegible]

Election of President Judges.

At the late election in this State, President Judges of the Courts were voted for in four districts, with the following results:

In Allegheny county, Moses Hampton, whig, was elected President Judge of the District Court.

In the District composed of Wayne, Pike, Carbon and Monroe counties, James M. Porter, dem., was elected President Judge.

In the District composed of Centre, Clearfield and Clinton counties, Jas. Burnside, dem., was elected President Judge.

In the District composed of Mercer, Venango, Clarion and Warren counties, John S. M'Calmont, dem., was elected President Judge.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Arctic arrived at N. York on Monday with Liverpool dates to the 19th Oct.

The news by this arrival confirms the intelligence before received of the visit of the United States expedition to Japan. Com. Perry had an interview with two Imperial Princes, to whom he delivered the friendly letter of the President of the United States, and the Commodore is to return to Japan next spring for a reply. The Americans were kindly received, and they and the Japanese parted as mutual friends, having exchanged presents and expressions of goodwill. The expedition sailed from Jeddo on the 17th August.

The condition of the Eastern question has drawn from the Turkish Government another manifesto, which is pronounced by the London Times to be one of the strongest and most unanswerable state papers issued during the present century. The London Post says it is certain that Russia is already morally defeated, and that she will soon be materially defeated.

The Turkish declaration of war is published in full. It is temperate and high spirited. It lays no embargo on Russian ships, and fully protects the rights of commerce. When the Czar heard of this declaration it is said that he became furious and threatened to wage a war of extermination against the Turks.

The Russian subjects in Turkey have been placed under Austrian protection, and Austria and Prussia have recalled their subjects from the Turkish service.—The indications are that these two Powers will maintain a neutral position.

On the 4th of October the combined fleets of Great Britain and France were observed to be preparing to advance on Constantinople. The Turks will allow neutral flags on the Danube till the 25th Oct., but no longer.

The Cholera—Its Progress.

For some time past, each successive arrival from Europe has apprised us of the ravages of the cholera in many of the cities and towns of England, and of its steady progress westward. Its appearance on the continent of Europe, was exactly similar to that in 1831 and 1848. It started from Asia—its usual starting point—last year, steadily advanced through Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, and has now been for some time striding through England, destroying its hundreds of victims per day. Its next move will probably be across the Atlantic, and we may expect it here, if not the coming winter, at least early the coming spring—and we should be prepared to meet it. We have no reason to believe that the ocean will prove a barrier to its farther progress; for as well might we suppose that the expanse of waters would stop the currents of air; for they are the conductors of this fell malady from one country to another.

Ohio Election.—Those who are acquainted with the state of parties in the recent election in Ohio are not surprised at the result. The party lines are not strictly drawn in the State; the Maine Law temperance question and many other issues entered into the contest. The whigs appear to have been generally the avowed friends of a Prohibitory Liquor Law, and that fact is supposed to have contributed very materially to their defeat by a plurality which is reported by telegraph to be thirty or forty thousand. The result has thus exemplified what we have heretofore had occasion to say, that in all such contests the Democrats will generally stick to a man of their party, whether they agree with them on the temperance question or not, while the whigs will divide and vote according to their sentiments.—St. Louis Intel.

The Chinese in California.—It seems from all accounts that the Chinese who so recently thronged by hundreds and thousands to the shores of our El Dorado of the West, have become disgusted with the country, and with the conduct of the "barbarians" who inhabit it, and are returning in large numbers to their Celestial home.—Five hundred and fifty Chinese took their departure for China in a single week previous to the departure of the last steamer. A great many are still pouring into the country, but these bear a small proportion to the home goers. A principal source of dissatisfaction is the treatment received by them in the mines. They complain to be subject to constant imposition from parties pretending to be tax-collectors, who, under the plea of licenses to dig, take from them nearly all they can make. This practice, they assert, is carried on very extensively whenever they happen to pitch upon a rich placer.

☞As an illustration of popular ignorance in England, it is stated that a woman in Sheffield recently astonished a neighbor with the astounding intelligence that the devil was dead! The truth of this statement being doubted, the sceptical woman accompanied her friend to the shop where she had seen the fact advertised. The couple at length reached a dyer's shop, in the window of which was a placard with the inscription, "Satin dyed here."

☞New Grenada papers inform us that the first fatal accident occurred on the Panama Railroad upon the 1st ult., when a train with six hundred passengers was thrown off a bridge, at Tabucha, into a ravine sixteen feet deep, by running over an ox. Four men were killed, and several severely injured.

☞A Census of Detroit, Michigan, just completed for Directory purposes, shows that the city and its environs contain a population amounting to 31,017 souls, of whom 21,355 are Protestants and 12,662 Catholics.

Fiend Caught.—As some Germans were crossing the track of the Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Railroad on Monday night they heard a noise as of iron falling on the track, and on going towards the place met a man named Vincent Gray, who had been put out of a car. They then found a T rail thrown across the track. This was about ten feet east of a bridge over a gully of ten or twelve feet deep; and east of this again was an iron crosstie thrown across the track. They removed the obstructions, and immediately afterwards the passenger train going west thundered by. There was but a step between some of the passengers and death. Gray was arrested and committed.

Passenger Cars.—The cost of one of the long railway cars is, on an average, about $2,000. There are in the United States upwards of eighty private car manufactories, exclusive of those railways which make and repair all for their own use; and it is calculated that a capital of $6,000,000 is invested in this branch of industry, producing about $17,000,000 annually, and employing about 6,000 men.

More Deaths from Poisonous Candy.—Two bright-eyed little boys, one aged two and the other about five years—sons of a Mr. Horton, of Boston—died a few days since from eating candy which had been colored with some poisonous substance.

☞A woman in Boston has commenced a suit of divorce against her husband, because he would not allow her to apply her tongue to the stopper of the molasses jug every time she uses it—a privilege every Yankee woman considers sacred.

UMBRELLAS.—A very large assortment, all kinds and sizes, from 37½ cents up, at KURTZ'S.

THE GLOBE:
THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS,
AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

IT will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter [illegible] Washington [illegible] New-York, 12th March, 1852, that [illegible] the Globe [illegible] in the minds of the [illegible] this Country. [illegible]

The Daily Globe and the Congressional Globe.

In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, [illegible] of establishing the Congressional Globe [illegible] a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates [illegible]

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress; each, in succession, will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock, p. m. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock, p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the Cities 250 miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by telegraph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted in them, and, through agents employed for the purpose, all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington, before the public mind at a distance had received its first impressions from irresponsible telegraphic dispatches, or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a centre of political interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments, and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress, is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country, that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government. To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village throughout the Union, where the Globe is sent daily under the franks of members of Congress; all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies.

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress portends much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast interests which were brought up in the last Congress were laid over by the Democratic Executive. The new modelling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every man a freeholder who may choose to become one; the approximation of the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans by a national railroad across the territory of the Union; reform in the Army, Navy and civil offices—all these great questions, with a thousand minor ones, deeply affecting multitudes of men and every State in the Union, will, now being matured by public opinion, come up for the Government's decision. These new issues, cooperating with old ones coming up to be disposed of by new actors on the scenes at Washington, will be apt to modify greatly, if not alter essentially, the party organizations of the country.

To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agitations of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness [illegible] and if war comes, in all likelihood there will follow such universal change [illegible] It is apparent that our Government is already drawn into [illegible] These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind to the next Congress with much expectation.

The DAILY GLOBE will be printed on fine paper, double royal size, with small type [illegible]

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE will also be printed on a double sheet, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE proper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But this has not been found satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the chance of clubbing in case individuals shall find it too onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe and cheapen it to subscribers, Congress passed last year a joint resolution making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to postmasters generally:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved, August 6, 1852.

As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of similar publications, [illegible] cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of presswork and paper. It requires the sale of about 9,000 copies to reimburse [illegible] If 500 only were sold, the cost of each copy would be [illegible] subscribers for debates in Congress, [illegible] as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one; and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842 and the long one before made 4,000 royal quarto pages—four large volumes [illegible] This work increases in [illegible]

FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.
Still Greater Improvement in Grain Drills.
PRICE REDUCED TO SIXTY DOLLARS!

MOORE'S PATENT SEED AND GRAIN PLANTER.

THIS Machine was Patented July 2, 1850, and has received the highest premium at all the Exhibitions where it has ever been contested, including Newcastle county, Delaware Agricultural Society, October 9th, 1850; Philadelphia and Delaware County Agricultural Society, October 17th, 1850; Maryland State Agricultural Society, October 25th, 1850, and October 24th, 1851; and Michigan State Agricultural Society, September 25th, 1851.

is not liable to get out of repair, is exceedingly simple in its construction, will sow point rows in all irregular shaped fields, and possesses superior advantages to all others, in the ease and quickness with which it can be regulated to sow any desired quantity of Grain per acre, while the draft upon the Horses is 25 per cent. lighter, and consequently, with the same labor, can seed one-fourth more ground per day, than with most other machines now in use. The objection so common to Drilling Machines of becoming choked if the seed is not perfectly cleaned, is entirely obviated in the Simple and Peculiar Construction of this Drill, as white caps and short straw will not interfere in the least with

THE REGULAR DISTRIBUTION OF THE SEED.

It is warranted to distribute the seed evenly; to sow any quantity per acre commonly sown broadcast; to not cut or break the grains; to be well made with good materials and durable with proper care.

Having sold about 400 of the above Drills the past season, all of which met with the unqualified approbation of the purchasers; and after careful and thorough experiments which have resulted in still greater Improvements, we now feel warranted in saying that Moore's Patent Seed and Grain Planter improved, is superior to any other machine FOR THE PURPOSE, NOW IN THE MARKET.

Having made arrangements to furnish 1,000 of the above Machines for sale, the coming season, we shall be prepared, at all times, to supply orders without delay.

All orders addressed to the undersigned will warrant prompt attention.

LEE, PEIRCE & THOMPSON.

WM. R. FREE is Agent for Adams County, for the above Drill; and also for the sale of SEYMOUR, MORGAN & CO'S Reaping Machine. Any letters addressed to him at Ercildoun P. O., Chester county, Pa., will be attended to.

MORSE'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF YELLOW DOCK ROOT.

THIS is a Purely Vegetable Compound, scientifically prepared from the best Roots and Herbs of the Materia Medica, and has gained an unrivalled reputation for the following effects, viz:

Regulating and Strengthening the Liver and Digestive Organs, and Cleansing the Stomach and Bowels, and thus curing all Bilious Diseases, Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Fever and Ague, Jaundice, Nausea, Loss of Appetite, &c., and causing the food to nourish and support every part.

PURIFYING THE BLOOD, and thus curing all Humors, Cutaneous Eruptions, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Canker, Pimples on the face, Blotches, Ulcers, Tumors, Mercurial Disease, Catarrh, &c.; Regulating the Secretory Organs, and by enabling them to perform their proper functions, preventing and curing many painful and dangerous diseases; Strengthening and Quieting the Nervous System, thus allaying Nervous Irritation and curing all Diseases of the Nerves, as Hysteria, Neuralgia, Cramps, &c.

It is unrivalled in the Cure of all

FEMALE COMPLAINTS,

as Weakness, General Debility, Irregularity, Obstructions, Swelling of the Feet, Limbs, Joints, &c., caused by weakness; also, Lung & Throat Complaints, as Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Consumption, &c., also, Dropsy.

Having made use of the Compound Syrup of Yellow Dock Root, prepared by C. MORSE & CO., either ourselves, or in our families, and finding it to be a very salutary and effectual preparation, we do most cheerfully recommend it to the public as a very valuable medicine.

Adv., Wm. Field, M. W. G. M., [illegible], M. E. H. P., J. Hutchinson, G. S. [illegible] Bates, Dr. Benj. Colby, and one hundred others of the most respectable families of Providence.

This certifies that I have for a number of years been acquainted with the composition and mode of manufacture of MORSE'S COMPOUND SYRUP of YELLOW DOCK ROOT. I have also been acquainted with its modus operandi in disease, and can say that in all respects it is admirably calculated to remedy that class of Diseases for which it was designed. It is especially valuable in INDIGESTION and all its attendant symptoms. It excites to healthy action the LIVER, removes Torpor, and inactivity of this Organ, and stimulates healthy action in all the system. As a DEPURATOR or purifier of the Blood it has no superior.
